Proposed Language to post under the Iowa-specific area of the Student Consumer Information page of the university's website:

We'll have a link titled, "Important Information for Non-Wisconsin Residents" and will break the disclaimers down by state. We'll also place a link under the "Veterans and Military Service Personnel: Leaving and Returning to the University" that states "Iowa Service Personnel" and will link to the following:

For Iowa residents: (to comply with 261.9 g)

Iowa National Guard Personnel, who receive military orders (involuntary call to active duty) that will interrupt their education, must provide a copy of their orders to the registrar. Notification of the registrar will allow the student to exercise the following options:

1. Withdraw from all courses with a full refund of tuition and mandatory fees
2. Selective withdrawal from one or more courses with a full refund of tuition and mandatory fees
3. Incomplete grades awarded at the discretion of the instructor to provide an extension for completing coursework
4. Final grades may be issued if the instructor determines that the student has completed a sufficient amount of coursework

The above terms of withdrawal apply to students who are spouses of activated National Guard Personnel when the student/spouse has a dependent child.

To comply with Iowa Senate File 2225 (item 261.9 h): (It appears this does not need to be posted on the university's website in order to comply.)

Executive Order #54, signed by Governor Walker December 11, 2011, extends the state's mandatory reporting requirements on child abuse and neglect to all employees of the University System. All University of Wisconsin System (UWS) employees (regardless of appointment type or method of compensation) must immediately report child abuse or neglect if, in the course of employment, a UWS employee:

- Observes an incident or threat of child abuse or neglect, or
- Learns of an incident or threat of child abuse or neglect and has reasonable cause to believe that child abuse or neglect has occurred or will occur.
